Nairn went to Haiti to offer perspectives from Canadian foresters. Part of their job is to be support or mentors for places looking for help or expertise in the forestry field. Haiti is 98% deforested and they went there in August to help them with their program. They were with Forests w/o Borders. Their focus is to help not to raise funds. Haiti is one third the size of NB but ten times the population. After the earthquake they estimated it would take 10 years to clean up the debris and they have almost done it in 3. they are very resilient. They are looking for financial partners to help get tools and equipment.
